SHOULD MUNICIPAL UTILITIES BE UNDER STATE COMMISSION?

The Connecticut Chamber of Commerce has just sent to its membership a referendum that will be of interest to all students of government and economic policy. It asks its members whether municipal owned public utilities should be regulated by the Public Utilities Commission, whether they should make reports to the commission, and whether they should be required to pay taxes on the same basis as privately owned public utilities. The three questions are accompanied by affirmative and negative arguments. Theodore L. Bristol, president of the Ansonia Water company, a privately owned concern, prepared the affirmative brief, and Caleb M. Saville, manager and chief engineer of the Board of Water Commissioners of Hartford, prepared the negative brief.

The three questions contained in the referendum are:

1—Should municipally owned public utilities be subject to the regulation of the Public Utilities Commission?

2—If municipally owned public utilities should be subject to the regulation of the Public Utilities Commission, should they make annual reports to the commission?

3—Should municipally owned public utilities pay local, county, state or federal taxes on substantially the same basis as privately owned public utilities?

LAID CAMPAIGN PLANS FOR FARM BUREAU MEMBERSHIP

The membership committee recently appointed at the meeting of the State Farm Bureau Federation meeting, met the first of this week at Waterbury. Elmer Allyn of Waterford and Stanley Hale of South Glastonbury make up this committee. At this time they invited G. E. Wilcott, who has charge of the state membership campaign that is being conducted in Rhode Island at the present time and E. E. Heaton organizer for the National Federation.

The committee outlined the following plans to be followed in each county of the state when the membership campaign is run. Mr. Wilcott will have charge of the campaign in each county and will put in from one week to ten days advertising the work of the farm bureau from both county and national standpoint. Following they will have a series of local meetings which will be open to everyone. Representatives of the National Federation as well as local men will be secured to present the plan of membership campaign. Opportunity will be given everyone to ask questions and to sign up for the three year period. Canvassers who will run the campaign and do the actual soliciting under the plan will be selected from the local men. The committee plans as far as possible to secure one or two men from each county to make up the necessary number of canvassers.

The local Farm Bureau directors of each town will be asked to make the necessary arrangements for meetings and to provide transportation for these canvassers. It will probably be possible to hold at least one town each day so that the campaign will last from three weeks to one month in each county. Under this plan it will take until the first of next January to cover the state with the membership campaign. As has been stated before $2 of each $10 membership goes to the state federation and $8 goes to the local Farm Bureau.

Mr. Wilcott will be available to start the advertising campaign in this county around the 20th of April. The actual campaign for members will begin around the first of May as was at first planned by the directors of this farm bureau.

ROTARIANS FAVOR MORE MONEY FOR AMERICANIZATION

Two reels of industrial education, motion pictures were shown at the weekly luncheon luncheon of the Rotary club Wednesday at the Wauregan house. There were about 35 at the meeting including several guests and the meeting was in charge of J. Henry Shannon.

James L. Case was the song leader for the day and solos were rendered by Henry J. Leland, Joseph C. Gager, and a feature of the singing was a selection by the Metallic Quartette comprised of employees of the United Metal Pipe company under the leadership of C. F. Welch.

Judge Nelson J. Azing presented a resolution that the Rotary club endorse the Americanization bill which is to come before the legislature on the 20th of the state capitol this (Thursday) afternoon. The bill is for an appropriation of $25,000 for Americanization work but it has been proposed that the appropriation be increased to $50,000. The Rotary club heartily endorsed the bill and the increased appropriation request.

Mayor Herbert M. Lerou extended the sympathy of the club to the secretary, E. Howard Baker, whose house on Lafayette street was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday morning.

Charles Tracy who was a guest of the club, spoke of the Rotary spirit as he had found it in other cities and complimented the local club on the most excellent spirit of co-operation that was manifest in this club.

The motion picture which was shown dealt with the manufacture of the Griddleley automatic single and multiple spindle machine. Every operation in the construction of this labor saving machine was shown as well as some of the uses to which the machine is put.

WOULD MEAN BIG CUT IN STATE'S EXPANSION WORK

At a meeting of the State Federation of Farm Bureaus held in New Haven last week, Dr. Woods, president of the State Federation, asked for a statement from Director Baker regarding the effect of decreased funds which the appropriations committee is considering. Director Baker regarding the effect of decreased funds which the appropriations committee is considering. Director Baker stated that at the request of the chairman of this legislative committee he had prepared a statement suggesting cuts in the work which would be necessary if the extension service appropriation is cut $5 per cent. These suggested cuts would go before the trustees of the college and would be acted upon by them.

The following are the lines of work which Director Baker would recommend to be dropped:

1—Market reporting service. 2—All money paid to farm bureaus toward the salaries of home demonstration agents. 3—State clothing specialist. 4—Assistant state officer of home demonstration. 5—Assistant in poultry work. 6—Crop specialists. 7—Specialists in sheep work. 8—Specialists in swine work. 9—Specialists in beekeeping. 10—Fair exhibits. 11—Assistant farm management demonstrators.

Aside from this there would be cuts in some of the half time men that are working for the extension service, such as farm and home engineering, agricultural editor and extension schools and such institutions would be cut to a minimum.

From the foregoing it can be seen that in such drastic cut in the appropriations for the extension service as was at first contemplated would seriously cripple the work being carried out throughout the state.

OBJECT TO CLASSING TUBERCULOUS AS PAUPERS

A formal protest has been filed with the committee on legislation by the present legislature by the state tuberculosis commission against the practice of some Connecticut cities and towns classifying as paupers or indigents in similar terms, persons who receive financial aid while recovering from tuberculosis.

The commission has investigated the custom of Connecticut towns in recording aid of this kind and has filed its report with the committee on legislation at a hearing at which Dr. Stephen J. Maher of New Haven represented the commission. Senator Nehemiah Candee of South Norwalk, chairman of the legislative committee on humane institutions, presented the local club on the most excellent spirit of co-operation that was manifest in this club.

The motion picture which was shown dealt with the manufacture of the Griddleley automatic single and multiple spindle machine. Every operation in the construction of this labor saving machine was shown as well as some of the uses to which the machine is put.

persons at a certain sanatorium but not the names of the persons receiving the aid.

The towns which classify the sanatoria patients as "paupers," "poor," or "indigents" include Cromwell, East Hampton, Lebanon, Plymouth, Bearah, Cheshire, Coventry, Wallingford, Windor, Shelton, Groton, Guilford, New Milford, North Haven, Plainfield, Plainville, Portland, Saybrook Somers, Southington, Stratford, Stonington, Voluntown and Woodbridge.

Still another class of towns, the investigation shows, refer the expenditures of money for this purpose to the "charities" without giving the name of the patients receiving the aid. These are Branford, Cheshire, Derby, East Hampton, East Haven, Mansfield, Milford, Shelton, South Windor, Windham, Windor and Woodbridge.

Another of towns publish the names of the persons receiving financial aid for sanatoria treatment without other special classification. They are Burlington, Canaan, Canton, Glastonbury and Vernon. In these cases only the number of the voucher and the amount of the aid given with the name.

Dr. Maher stated to the committee on legislation that the efforts of the tuberculosis commission to induce persons ill with tuberculosis to go to sanatoria were greatly retarded by the existing practice in the town whose report gives a classification of the sum which is received. Many persons are unwilling to go to sanatoria if they must be referred to in such classification and, having the disease, therefore, remain at home and spread contagion throughout the family and neighborhood.
